

Summer 2009 Writing: Incoming Grades 3-6

To help our children practice their writing skills over the summer, we would like them to write one paragraph per week in the journals provided. Students will have a total of 10 entries in their journals.

Students may write about their activities (camps, vacations, sports, or any fun activities) OR they may make up their own story OR choose a topic from the writing prompt list posted on the website where the summer book report information is listed. The journals will be collected the first week of school. Students may add illustrations to their entries, if they wish.
