A School of Excellence in the Catholic Tradition Since 1958

The Family Day Tradition Continues By Megan Pouliot '11 and Madison Jupitz '11

At Saints Peter and Paul High School, the students are anxiously awaiting the next SSPP Family Day. Each quarter, the high school designates a Family Day in which there are no after school meetings, practices, athletic games, or homework! Family Days were started to remind students and faculty about the importance of taking time away from our increasingly busy days to spend time with family.

To students, it's much more than having a day off from homework and a tag-day. "I look forward to Family Day because it's a great time to bond with my family. Last year, on Family Day, I cooked dinner with my family, and we played catch afterwards," said senior Alex Spiegel. Students like Alex spend every homework-free Family Day enjoying some quality time with their families after school. It's the kind of day that every student looks forward!
