

SAINTS PETER AND PAUL HIGH SCHOOL

A School of Excellence in the Catholic Tradition Since 1958

Student Spotlight

Senior Rachel Buniski participates in both sports and extracurricular activities at our high school. She is a field hockey and tennis player while assuming leadership positions such as the Senior Class President and National Honor Society Treasurer.

Rachel has also been active in both Key Club and the Sabres Ambassador program. This year, she is expanding her horizons and has joined the Mock Trial Team. Rachel is a dedicated and indispensable part of our school community who said, "I love being involved in all the extracurricular activities Saints Peter and Paul has to offer."

Senior Elizabeth McKelvy is one of the most active and involved students at Saints Peter and Paul High School. When she is not out on the tennis court or managing the Varsity Field

Hockey team, she's busy organizing activities for the Key Club (of which she is President) and participating in the International Club. As a junior Elizabeth was recognized for her hard work by being accepted into the National Honor Society and by receiving the Chris Maxwell award for tennis. Some of the new activities Elizabeth has become involved in are the Public Relations Club, the Lectio Divina Club, Mock Trial Team, and being one of the student producers of this year's school play. Elizabeth said about her school involvement: "I love all the clubs and activities I am involved in. I really try to dedicate myself to each one."
